When Disaster Strikes: The Good, Bad, and Ugly Practices in Disaster Recovery

Thursday, March 16, 2017

Did you know....?

On average, businesses lose between $84,000 and $108,000 (US) for every hour of IT system downtime, according to estimates from studies and surveys performed by IT industry analyst firms. In addition, financial services, telecommunications, manufacturing and energy lead the list of industries with a high rate of revenue loss during IT downtime.
